

Outline

Designed by Italy-based Toshiyuki Yoshino, "LAGOOSE" invites users with its statement shell design crafted from Hokkaido wood. The name "GOOSE" references the designer's vision of furniture that "floats lightly in space", similar to the bird's body lifted off the ground by its feet. Available in high-back and low-back variations, the collection emphasizes comfort with thoughtful details like reclining headrests and soft cushioning.

- High Back Chair
Designed with a lower seat position, this chair allows the entire upper body to recline comfortably. The adjustable headrest can be tilted while seated, with a particular focus on the angle of recline for optimal relaxation. When paired with a stool, the chair offers an even greater level of comfort. Designer Toshiyuki Yoshino describes the ideal experience as "sitting down and, before you know it, dozing off." Perfect for watching TV, taking a break in the study, or other relaxing moments, this chair provides a unique sense of comfort distinct from that of a sofa.
- Low Back Chair
Ideal for socializing or engaging in thoughtful conversation, this chair is designed to make these moments more enjoyable. With a broad, plush seat that prioritizes comfort, the lightweight design ensures it doesn't feel heavy. Its armless, airy frame offers flexibility, allowing users to comfortably rest their arms or adjust their posture with ease. Designer Yoshino confidently states, "No matter how you sit, you'll look stylish." Paired with a table, it fits beautifully in hotel lounges or business settings. In living rooms, it complements sofas as a well-balanced and aesthetically pleasing addition.
